OWEN, WOODIN CHANGE

Both Parties Report Others in Prospect Among Prominent Leaders of Enemy

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

New York—Although it is customary for political headquarters in every presidential campaign to have a certain number of letters to give out showing Republicans voting the Democratic ticket, and vice versa, there is every indication that a record will be made this time showing the shifting of men from party to party.

Announcements Thursday for instance, that former Senator Robert L. Owen of Oklahoma, Democrat, would support Herbert Hoover and that William H. Woodin, president of the American Car and Foundry Co. and the American Locomotive Co., a Republican, would support Governor Smith, revealed to some extent the changes that are going on in party affiliations. Both headquarters say there are others in prospect and of course a good many who will support their respective candidates but who will not give publicity to that fact. Mr. Woodin as a member of the Union League club declined an invitation to serve on the Hoover campaign committee because he felt he should support Governor Smith but Senator Owen of Oklahoma has been more active in politics and therefore his desertion of the Smith ticket is considered from a political point of view significant of the battle in the border states. Mr. Owen has always been associated with the progressive elements in the Democratic party and was a close friend of the late William Jennings Bryan. Indeed Mr. Owen has been balloted for at Democratic conventions several times. In the Madison Square Garden convention he made a notable speech in an endeavor to persuade the party to mention the Klan by name in the platform. The Klan fight in Oklahoma has been intense and in fact the Republicans are counting upon heavy gains in that state.

Former Senator Owen was one of the co-authors of the federal reserve act but since his voluntary retirement from the senate has not been very much in Oklahoma, having spent much of his time in the capital on private business.

READ OUT TERNCOATS

The bold Senator Owen will have an effect in Oklahoma because unless leaders take the initiative in bolting there is hesitancy on the part of the rank and file. On the other hand, there is a distinct movement on foot to read out of the Democratic party permanently those who bolt the ticket, and the probabilities are that Mr. Owen is not seriously thinking of running again for the senate or entering public life.

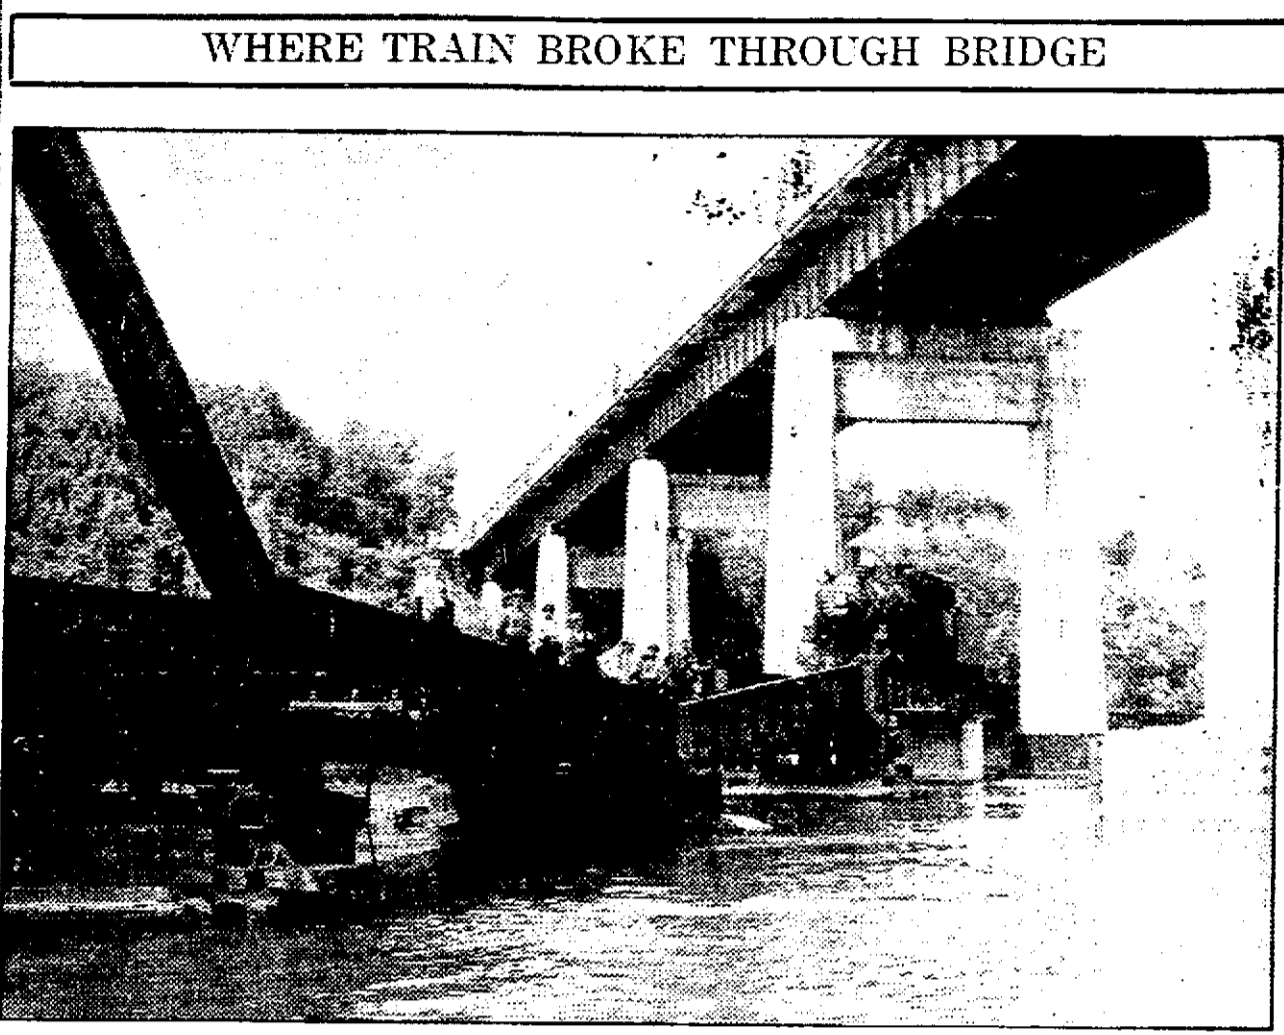

There are a number of Democrats like Senator Simmons of North Carolina, who has just resigned as a member of the Democratic national committee, but they probably will not announce any bolt from the ticket.

Some Democratic leaders here were suggesting Thursday the possibility that the bolt of Senator Owen might prove a boomerang because if there are any defections of prominent Democrats in states where the Klan is active in politics, the assumption in the northern states will be that Klan influence has been uprooted. Some of these leaders are an advantage to Smith if the plan is carried out.

Fire Destroys Kimberly Factory; Loss Is $25,000

Fire of unknown origin completely destroyed the plant of the Kimberly-Clark Home Supply company of Kimberly, Wis., early Friday morning with a loss estimated in excess of $25,000. The loss is covered by insurance.

When the blaze was discovered about 2:45 Friday morning by a night watchman at the Kimberly-Clark plant, it had gained considerable headway and members of the Kimberly fire department, reaching the place a few minutes later immediately realized they would need more help and sent emergency calls to Combined Locks, Little Chute and Appleton. Officials of the company said Friday morning plans were being made to rebuild the plant at once.

Pouring five streams of water on the building the fire departments from the four cities kept the flames from spreading to other buildings of the firm. The office is only 30 feet from the destroyed structure and officials of the company said Friday morning that undoubtedly the other buildings were saved by the good work of the firemen.

Another factor which helped prevent the flames from spreading, according to H. W. Langenberg, treasurer and general manager of the company, was the heavy rain which fell at intervals during the night.

Mr. Langenberg said the cause of the fire is unknown. He said there were no fire in the structure Thursday night. The supply company does not employ a night watchman.

The destroyed building was a frame structure 35 feet wide, 40 feet long and two stories high. The first floor was devoted entirely to housing planing machinery while the second floor contained a large stock of trimmed wood, finished goods, packing, window frames, bookcases and other cabinet articles.

The departments worked until 4 o'clock Friday morning before other buildings were safe.

FRAHM NEW CHAIRMAN OF UTILITY SECTION

Eau Claire Man Elected at Friday Morning Session of Convention Here

A. R. Frahm of the Northern States Power company, Eau Claire, was elected chairman of the electric section of the Wisconsin Utilities association to succeed Grant Ford, Wisconsin Valley Electric company, Wausau, at the election at the Friday morning session of the convention. D. G. Evans, Wisconsin Gas & Electric company, Racine, was elected vice chairman, succeeding Mr. Frahm.

L. J. Beckwith of The Milwaukee Electric Railway & Light company talked to the convention delegates Friday morning on Recent Developments in Eliminating Interference to Radio Reception. Mr. Beckwith stated that by cooperating with the radio fans for the past four years on the problem of eliminating radio interference the electric utilities have generally improved radio service, and at the same time have eliminated cases of ineffectual trouble in their own equipment.

TROUBLES GROWING

The speaker explained how in the past it has not been difficult to remove radio interference, but that the problem is rapidly becoming more difficult due to the increased sensitivity of radio receivers. This fact is particularly noticeable since the recent introduction of the shielded and turn to page 12 col. 2

FLIERS RUSHED SOUTHWARD TO FACE INQUIRY

Polar Airmen, Greeted With Cheers on May 5, Bade Farewell With Hisses

Narvik, Norway—(AP)—The north's farewell to the survivors of the Italia when they started for home was hisses. Flying they were rushing southward in a special car to Italy where they will face an inquiry into their fatal trip to the pole.

Clashed the airship on its way when it departed from Narvik on May 5 for the Arctic and the town was decked with umbrellas and flags in their honor. Hostility kept them aboard their base ship the Citta di Milano Thursday until the train was ready to take them home.

General Umberto Nobile, commander of the expedition, like a man broken physically and mentally. He was thin and stooped and his haggard face showed plainly the strain of worry and illness.

When the Citta di Milano arrived at the little place of Fagnano, about two miles from Narvik, the crowd waiting on the quay ignored the appeals of the Italian consul to take the mooring nose east ashore. A sailor was forced to jump to the quay to tie the ship and finally a boy of eleven pulled them and helped in the mooring.

Captain Filippo Zappi, navigator of the airship, appeared on deck intending to go to buy some clothes. There were hostile cries from the crowd on the quay and he decided to remain aboard the ship.

There was a military air about the vessel. Machines with bayonets fixed stood guard over the gangplank. Nobile did not appear for sometime after the ship had been moored.

SMITH CHATS WITH GOVERNOR RITCHIE

Talk With Maryland Executive Only Political Business of Weekend

Albany, N. Y.—(AP)—A chat with another governor, Ritchie of Maryland, was the only political business confronting Governor Smith as he looked forward Friday to a week end of swimming and golf on the south shore of Long Island.

The Democratic nominee for the presidency, planned to take a day of odds and ends of state business, then board an afternoon train for New York. He had arranged a meeting there Friday night with Ritchie, with an automobile trip on to Hampton, Mass., formerly Col. Good, on his schedule for Saturday.

The conference with Governor Ritchie was arranged by Smith who was anxious to talk over the political situation with the man who withdrew from the Democratic presidential nomination before the Houston convention, through his support to Smith with whom he has gone along to a large extent on the prohibition issue.

The nominee is giving little attention to arrangements for his nomination here Aug. 12.

TILDEN DEFEATS LACOSTE IN MATCH

Big Bill Surprises With First Win in Five Battles With French Star

Roland Garros Stadium, Antwerp, France—(AP)—Big Bill Tilden Friday defeated his old rival, Rene Lacoste of France, in the first match of the Davis Cup challenge round by scores of 6-3, 6-4, 6-3, 6-3.

The American player came from behind after dropping the first set and outlasted the French master of backhand strokes in one of the most exciting five set struggles since tennis stars have engaged in the contest. Tilden gave his team the lead in his drive to reclaim the cup from the French who captured it a year ago in the United States.

Tilden's victory was the first since he lost the last five times they met and it can be said as a surprise.

Big Bill was in a masterly display as were the experts of the past in which he was dropped from the team for alleged violation of the tennis rule and then reinstated at a banquet hour at the present time.

French Grand defeated John Hennessey by scores of 6-2, 6-3, 6-3, 6-3 in the second singles match of the Davis Cup challenge round, being the first between the nations at 10.

Policeman Shoots Girl Who Spurns Love Pleas

Milwaukee—(AP)—Unrequited love caused a Milwaukee policeman to shoot his sweetheart Thursday and as she lay helpless before him to fracture her skull by repeatedly hammering it on the floor.

"She didn't love me because I am an Indian," he mumbled by way of explanation after he had voluntarily given himself up to the police and had confessed to the act.

The police took a Benjamin Eckert, 27, his victim who now lies in a critical condition in a hospital, fatally wounded, is Alex Herdogen, 23.

The shooting took place at the home of Mrs. Margaret Herdogen where Miss Herdogen has been a guest for several days.

The romance between Eckert and Miss Herdogen began shortly after Eckert's divorce and for a time the affair progressed smoothly. The first rift, according to the narrative told police, was the objection of Miss Herdogen's mother to her association with a man of Indian blood. Gradually the rift was communicated to the daughter and several days later a lover's quarrel brought an open break.

Thursday night Eckert called Miss Herdogen and asked to see her. Refusing at first she finally consented to a meeting of the two in the presence of Mrs. Eckert.

Shortly after 10 o'clock, according to Mrs. Eckert's story, to the police, Eckert called on Miss Herdogen and the argument was started anew.

"Well," the recent parolman said, "No other man will have you and with a flourish whipped out an unquoted pistol which he had carried on his person last Wednesday night. Five times he pulled the trigger while the hunched women stood transfixed. The woman saw the old weapon fired and a bullet penetrated the side of the girl's head. She sank to the floor.

Eckert sprang upon her, shook her violently and pounded her head on the floor with enough force to fracture the skull. The fracture, it was said at Emergency hospital, is more serious than the pistol wound.

Eckert said he was the father of two children. He does not know where his former wife is.

Driver Hits Young Girl, Speeds Away

Ignores Threats of Neighbors, Who See Killing, and Succeeds in Escape

Milwaukee—(AP)—While scores of neighbors looked on, a motorist Thursday night sped away after running down and killing a five-year-old girl.

He ignored threats from spectators and started on the gas when one of the citizens leaped into his automobile and gave chase. Turning corners abruptly and speeding down alleys, he shook off pursuers and escaped.

Hearing the clamor, Charles W. Mathiason stopped to the door of his house and saw the body of his daughter, Helen, lying in the street.

Police Friday morning are searching the entire city for automobiles which answer the description of the death car.

The girl was walking across the street when the accident took place, almost directly in front of her house. She was struck by the front wheel and killed almost instantly.

Neighbors declared the death car was a Ford roadster fitted with a delivery box in the rear. It was occupied by a young man driver.

G. O. P. HEAD GRATEFUL TO NATIVE STATE

SEES COMMERCIAL ERA

Pennsylvania Strong for Nominee, Vire Lieutenant Says

San Francisco—(AP)—Making his first return to politics in a public address, the late nomination, Herbert Hoover told the people of San Francisco at his homecoming celebration here Friday that an education rested upon him not only to represent the great party which has nominated him for leadership but also to bring such a fashion as to bring credit and distinction upon the people of California.

Speaking in the vast rotunda of the city hall, in reply to an address of welcome by Mayor James Rolph, Jr., the Republican presidential nominee warmly thanked the people of California for the honor they had done him in presenting his name to the Kansas City convention. His address followed an ovation given him by crowds that lined the streets over which his automobile moved from the railroad station to the city hall.

"Mr. Mayor, you are among the gentlemen who did me the honor of selecting me for leadership of a great political party through my nomination as president of the United States," Hoover said. "My name was presented to that political party by the people of California. It was a mark of their confidence and their esteem."

"Words are difficult vehicles through which to convey the pride which men may rightly feel at such a mark of esteem from their fellow citizens, and an obligation rests on my side that I shall not only represent the great political party which has nominated me for leadership but also that I shall do it in such fashion as to bring credit and distinction upon the people of California."

Before making his promise as to the conduct of his campaign, Hoover briefly reviewed his early life in San Francisco, referred to his work in the commerce department, and declared that the outlook of the world today was "one of a greater era of commercial expansion."

In welcoming the presidential nominee on behalf of the city and people of San Francisco, Mayor Rolph said the nation was upon an era unique in the story of American progress.

"That era will bear a great name," he said, "it will be the Hoover era."

Hoover's homecoming was the first in San Francisco since he and his wife, Lou, arrived here in 1927. The town that grew upon one another's heels along the 50 miles and more of the peninsula stretching southward from the Golden Gate. The Republican presidential nominee arranged to leave the city of his San Juan Hill, where he was spent a week in work and recreation since he came from Washington.

HOW often we see it . . . a street car pulling up to a "stop" . . . passengers alighting . . . and almost without warning, an automobile thundering through as though its driver had the right of way and the alighting passengers no right there at all! Sometimes "luck" is with them . . . or maybe the passengers are watching . . . but now and then, another victim is added to the mammoth toll of automobile tragedies.

Often it is brought home most forcibly to these careless drivers and law breakers . . . for fate plays no favorites in picking its victims. Today a mother . . . tomorrow a sister . . . here a father . . . there a brother . . . or maybe a precious son or daughter . . . sacrificed on the altar of carelessness and criminal disregard. For what . . . ?

Sometimes to save a minute . . . sometimes to avoid the shifting of gears, the effort of stopping and starting . . . and, too often indeed, just to do what the law says shall not be done. This modern mania . . . this nervous impatience . . . THIS PACE THAT KILLS . . . must cease! Humanity decries it . . . AND UNWRITTEN LAW MUST INSPIRE IT!!!

Don't pass a street car that has stopped to take on or discharge passengers. Don't take chances in attempting to "beat" a car to the crossing. Give the pedestrian a chance.

ADOPT NEW PLAN OF MERIT AWARDS FOR BOY SCOUT CAMPERS

VI Manner of Stamps Will Be Determined for Different Kinds of Work

A new system of awarding honors to distinguished scouts at Camp Chickagami, valley council boy scout camp on Lake Winnebago, has been inaugurated, according to M. G. Clark, valley scout executive. The system is expected to bring out higher scouting endeavors and a closer competition between scouts.

At the daily camp leaders' conference, names of scouts who have earned belt honors are presented for approval. For each honor approved, a certificate is issued and presented at the campfire ceremony. Upon the presentation of this certificate to the person in charge of rubber stamps, the scout gets the honor stamped upon a cloth belt. A carded record of each honor awarded also is kept by the camp scribe. After the stamp has been presented, the scout must color the inscription himself, according to Mr. Clark.

The impression of a tent is awarded to each member of the patrol receiving first honors in tent inspection. A yellow sun is given to the patrol leader each day for the highest in tent inspection and an Indian campfire to each member of the winning patrol on stunt night. The campfire is colored with red for the flame and black for sticks. Kettles are awarded to each member of the patrol table winning first honors for the patrol in table inspection over a period of a week. Kettles are to be colored black.

A stamped flower is presented to each scout who makes unusual progress in nature study or in collecting materials for the museum, and a white shark to the scout who takes a morning dip each day during the week he is at camp. A seal is given to "water dogs" who can do mermaid, hedge swimming and all official life guards get blue water dogs. Beginners who can swim 50 feet get red dogs and swimmers of 100 yards or more are awarded green dogs.

Life preservers are awarded to selected swimmers, who also must hold merit badge certificates in life saving. Arrow heads are awarded for each merit badge earned while in camp, and foot prints are given to scouts who have satisfactorily completed the first class 14 mile hike test and makes a good oral report before the campfire or officers' council. Impressions of pup tents are given each scout who satisfactorily completes an overnight hike trip with good conduct and an owl is awarded to a scout or leader who has served as a leader or official in one or more scout council camps. This award is given at the end of the camp period.

Two wigmans are given scouts completing first class requirements while in camp and one wigman is presented for second class requirements. Pine tree impressions are awarded to the scout in each patrol who wins the most belt honors during the week. The impression of an axe is given by the woodcraft instructor to each boy taking part in an approved construction of a bridge, tower, council ring, cabin or other projects.

Swastikas are given the scout selected as officer of the day and three red stripes are awarded each member of the patrol which voluntarily offers to make a worthwhile improvement to the camp and completes such an improvement. Green spades are awarded to members of the patrol which most satisfactorily completed camp detail work and buffalo horns to each scout who provides entertainment for others at campfire or other program periods.

EDUCATOR HAS PRAISE FOR MISS SALISBURY

Ralph W. Pringle Says Her Resignation Needs More Than Passing Attention

"It certainly would be a splendid thing for the high school pupils of the country if there were enough men and women with the personality, zeal, and teaching skill of Miss Salisbury who were willing to devote their lives as unreservedly to teaching as she has done," says Ralph W. Pringle, principal of the Illinois State Normal university high school, formerly principal of the Appleton high school, in a letter to the Post-Crescent concerning Miss Decima Salisbury's resignation as head of the commercial department of the high school.

Mr. Pringle also states, "Miss Salisbury has an unusual capacity for hard work. The work of any teacher of commercial subjects involves much routine and drudgery. If she chafed under this, none of us who worked with her ever knew it. She maintained high standards of scholarship in her teaching and with little trouble secured good work from her pupils. She would not hesitate to take a star athlete off the basketball floor and see to it that he completed the work in which he was delinquent. Although she was firm in her dealings with the pupils, she always was popular, often referred to as "Doc." Her success is easily explained: devotion to work, sincerity of purpose, enthusiasm, and sympathetic understanding of boys and girls of high school age."

Mr. Pringle prefaced his letter with the statement that as few high school teachers have such a record for length and kind of service, he believed her resignation deserved more than passing mention.

COMPLETE PLANS FOR CONVENTION OF ELKS

Meeting at Oshkosh Aug. 8-10 Promises to Be a Lively Affair

Plans for the Elks state convention at Oshkosh, Aug. 8, 9 and 10, are nearing completion. It is hoped that this year's convention will be the most elaborate and extensive of any Elks convention ever held. The first state convention was held in Oshkosh in 1902 and the last held in the city was in 1915 and because of the long period since 1915 the Oshkosh Elks are going to all the added work.

The final program will be arranged this week and included in the program are speeches by national Elks state officers. The recreational program is the most extensive for on the opening day there will be a initiation of over a hundred applicants this being the largest initiation ever held in the city. A parade will be held on the opening day and there will be over a hundred floats participating.

On one of the days there will be a golf tournament and also a trapshooting event. Motor races will also be held. For the ladies a style show will be given and probably on the last day a boat excursion ride will be made. The local delegates to the convention have not yet been elected.

He Men Need Of Country Is Star's Cry

MARIE DRESSLER

MARIE DRESSLER, famous comedian, blames Mr. Modern for what's wrong with America today. She says: "The chief trouble with the women of today can be found in the men who surround them. We shall have better women when we have better men. There are, sad to relate, very few He-Men today. I suppose they are making the best of it, but they are getting a bad break. "I believe women really miss the Cave Man, whose methods we so loudly decried as vulgar and brutal. But I am old enough to believe that the man who lets his girl know he might beat her is the man who really loves her. "In America the chief offender of social decency today is the young married woman, the wealthy wife with too much leisure. She has a man taking care of her every need and a protected home. Yet she openly flouts this confidence to go her merry, jazy way. The modern man is as selfish of his own interests as his beautiful but dumb partner. He is so soft he makes things soft for her too. "The modern woman has too much cake. She is nauseated with her diet of sweets and hasn't seen yet that the world has no permanent place for wasters. Wealth has suffocated the average woman high up on the social ladder and her example of recklessness is being felt all down the line. What she really needs is an old-fashioned He-Man, with an iron hand, to steady her."

PERFUME USED BETRAYS THIEF OF SILVER

BY ALLEN SUMNER
Perhaps all this chatter about "matching your personality with your perfume" isn't so "fancie" after all. A certain woman was coming home from the theater the other night when she and her escort passed three strangers in the apartment lobby. As they passed by, the woman cried, "Why, that's my perfume!" The men started to run. When caught, all the household silver was found upon them and they confessed that they had squirted the woman's atomizer over themselves.

MARYE and MOM Their Letters

BY RUTH DEWEY GROVES

Dear Mom:
It is fun to be free again. This morning I slept late, and lay for a long time listening to the waves outside my window. Then I ordered my orange juice and toast and read the morning paper, and wondered why one couldn't just be useless and happy all the time.

I had a gorgeous swim, and while on the beach picked up an acquaintance with a girl who is staying here for a month, and we had luncheon together.

She said she had fallen into the hands of some bridge sharks out here, and that she never wanted to see a card again, she was so tired of it. So I suggested she go out motoring in the afternoon with me, which she did. I like her—her name is Alice Carver—ever so much. We rode around until we came to a very smart little tea shop, where we had tea. By this time I knew the story of Alice's life. She is here with her father, trying to forget the man whom she loves so much, and who recently married her best friend. She says she knows perfectly well that there is nothing she can do about it, or that she would do if she could, but she can't seem to get over it. No one else she meets interests her at all.

It isn't that she wants to care any more for the man who walked out on her, or that she doesn't realize that he wasn't particularly worth wasting her life on, but she can't help herself. There is no man worth breaking your heart over, but a great many that furnish excellent and stimulating entertainment. She said I looked to her like a woman who rode over life, triumphantly, and I told her I did.

I almost collided with the car of my brother Shelt, as we came back to the hotel. I presented him to Alice, and as we stood there talking along came Alan—so I just introduced Alan to the two, and he naturally assumed that both were recent acquaintances, and all went well.

You see, Alan knows nothing of Mr. Shelton. I had feared I might have to make some stupid explanation about him, but Fate protected her erring daughter. On the whole, life looks promising right now.

Your devoted, MARYE

JEWELLED BIRD HEADS USED ON HATS, DRESSES

Paris.—(AP)—New ornaments for hats and for evening dresses are a scintillating series of heads of various birds whose crests are studded with semi-precious stones.

FRENCH SHOPS SHOW CLOTHES THAT MAKE MEN

BY CURTIS WOOD
NEA Service Writer
New York.—(AP)—Paris has a lot to say these days about what the well-dressed man should wear.

Imported sports clothes can, at least, give us all pointers, if not envy.

Materials that France sponsors are always those exquisitely fine weaves that show workmanship to command respect. And as for colors, novelties and new touches, Paris has 'em.

PARIS GIVES POINTERS
Of course Paris is apt to sponsor styles that are somewhat too feminine for the masculine man of America. Perhaps that is because we Americans take no dictation in the line of business and street attire. We like our own. And, in the line of sportswear and accessories there's more chance to get fuzzy and feminine. Colors favored by sportswear this season in France are soft greys, and tans with brownish tones. With the grey Americans might let their fancies wander and try pink for shirt and tie, and with the tans vivid yellows might be thought stunning. Here is where Paris gives us pointers. Accessories must never take from the costume, either in color or design.

Accessories that Paris is sending us right now refute the statement that Mr. Man has gone gaudy. In texture the fine kerchiefs, shirts, shorts and shirts, ties and so on are unexcelled in fineness. In color they are subtle, with intricate, refined patterns, not flaming touches. So-called invisible checks are excellent for ties. So are pin-line stripes in some such color combination as dark and light blue, or red and pink.

Paris scorns the wider shoulders we are sponsoring now. But she uses the narrowed waistline, thereby giving a more feminine silhouette to her suits that we wear. Round lapels, tricky pockets, belted coats, and trousers pleated to fit the figure so one does not wear a belt are all contributions.

A golfing outfit—they call it an "ensemble"—was for its knicker such a novelty twined in which a herringbone diagonal stripe is used to form two-inch checks. It is a delicate grey on a still lighter grey background.

CAP OR BERE?
Knicker are decidedly less plus than they used to be. The sports coat shown has rounded edges to its lapels, a novel touch in this day and age of peaks and notches. It has a belted back to give it a sports look and patch pockets. Matching it is a cap with a visor, a touch most Frenchmen are now wearing the best wherever and whenever possible.

The scarf and sweater of a slightly darker grey amplify the proper motif on a light grey background and are of very fine angora. It is a pullover sweater, unbuttoned.

The sporty and smart style of a "P" decorative collar of pin-striped blue and grey is made in one with the belt, bow tie, like hunter's stocks.

The wide, flat, soft cap with a long, soft, grey band and summer look is the sort of scheme a man can wear.

Should Children Take Care Of Family Babies?

THERE has been a great movement in welfare societies to provide places where little girls can take their baby brothers or sisters on summer days. These places provide care for the babies in the form of day nurseries and recreation for the little mothers as well.

It is one of the greatest humanitarian efforts. There are many families where mothers must be away all day earning, in which the oldest little girl must take the place of the parent. Everywhere in certain districts of large cities we see these "little mother" caring for babies. They carry them around, often the babies almost as big as themselves, and never know a free moment away from their charges.

In other homes where the mother is busy all day long it is often the custom to call upon an older child to help in taking care of the baby. While mother washes or irons or sews or cleans, the little daughter of the house will be wheeling her baby brother out for his airing, watching him while he plays on the porch, directing his little journeys on his stroller, or even bathing him, feeding him, and dressing him. And that is all right as far as it goes. I have known mothers who never thought fit to relieve their little girls from this responsibility from one summer's end to the other. They forget that the older children had as much right to their play and freedom as the younger ones. "Go look after the baby. No, you can't go to the picnic. You'll look after baby." "When will I finish this dress?" "These commands are all very well for a certain part of each day, but it isn't fair to saddle a child with the constant care of a baby unless it is absolutely unavoidable. She will learn to hate the baby and all babies, most probably, if she is turned into a drudge.

I knew a mother once who embroiled all summer long while her two little girls were veritable prisoners. Once they left their little brother on a neighbor's porch and ran after a hurdy-gurdy man with the other neighborhood children. The baby fell off the porch and the girl was punished.

The little girls grew up with the saddest dispositions imaginable. It was no wonder.

There is another thing about children taking care of babies. They may hurt their backs or bend their soft cartilaginous bones out of shape by carrying a heavy baby grand. When I see a woman with misshapen shoulders, particularly with the right shoulder lower than the left, I say to myself, "She has probably helped to bring up her mother's family when she was a child."

And think of the baby! Is he safe with his ten-year-old sister or cousin around? Isn't she likely to let him fall?

In a house with endless work to be done, I should reverse the order of things. A little girl of ten can learn many household duties and relieve her mother that way. It seems a much safer plan for everybody, and is certainly kinder to her. Vacation should be as much of a vacation as possible. All children must play.

Two cups cooked brown rice, 3 medium sized onions, 2 green peppers, 1 cup chopped walnut meats, 2 tablespoons butter, 2 tomatoes, 1 cup cooled green peas, 2 cups cream sauce, parsley.

Peeled onions and remove seeds and put in pepper. Mince onions and pepper and cook over a low fire in butter until tender. Add to rice with nuts and mix thoroughly. Pack into a well buttered mold and steam forty minutes. Cut tomatoes in halves cross wise without peeling and steam twenty minutes. Slip off skin and scoop out seeds. Dust with salt and fill with hot buttered peas. Turn out rice onto a hot platter, surround with prepared tomatoes and pour over cream sauce. Injures Confidence of Public and Customers. Banker Tells Visitors

Picture to grant any business under investigation the right to enjoy the confidence of the public and its customers was criticized by M. D. Smiley, vice president of the First National bank, in his address to the election section convention of the Wisconsin Utilities association Thursday night.

"Successful conduct of any business depends upon the confidence and good will of the public," said Mr. Smiley. "No business objects to a fair investigation. The utility industry did not object to a fair investigation. Such investigations are helpful and eliminate abuses where they exist."

"But I contend that business investigations be conducted in such a fashion as to leave industries enjoying the confidence of the public until they have been proven guilty of wrongdoing. Failure to grant such protection injures business by undermining confidence."

The very fact that an industry is placed under investigation injures it in the eyes of the public. The indictment is likened in the newspaper headlines the dismissal without guilt is hidden among advertisements.

"The investigation of an industry to determine if any abuses exist puts the industry somewhat in the position of the many forced to answer with a yes or a no question. 'Have you stopped beating your wife yet?'"

The base of an investigation such as has been founded upon the electrical industry is the fact that suspicion is leveled at everyone in the industry. No utility man, regardless of how scrupulously he has conducted his particular business, escapes the general indictment leveled at the industry as a whole.

"I realize only too well what the commission is up against. It is fighting for its very life. It has been under constant fire of criticism for the report of its investigation of the General Electric company. It knows that unless it does something and that unless something is sufficient to carry on the front pages of the newspapers, it will be subject to a still more vicious attack and may even be completely wiped out of existence."

Mr. Smiley explained how the public utilities of America are accused of propagating their point of view with regard to government ownership and operation of power projects. "In other words," he said, "they are accused of attempting to prove to the public that they can operate their plants more efficiently and for less cost to the public than the federal government can operate them. Incidentally, they are accused of trying to retain ownership of the properties they have built up, although it is generally admitted that they are willing to submit to state control and regulation. The purpose of the probe is to divorce the managers of these properties from public sympathy. They are accused of seducing the newspapers, magazines, writers and financial institutions by buying advertising space and by making the public believe that the industry is the victim of the government's greed. The public is misled and the industry is disgraced and the defendant accused of wrongdoing is acquitted."

SMALL CROWD HEARS SENATOR BLAINE RAP NEW INCOME TAX LAW

Bad Weather Blamed for Small Attendance at Address by Junior Senator

Kaukauna—With exactly 22 persons in the hall, Senator John J. Blaine in an address at Moose hall flayed the "special privilege interests" and declared he didn't believe in upholding the planks of a platform with which he was not in accord and said the Progressives of the state were out on their own platform.

Mr. Blaine's speech had originally been scheduled for LaFollette park but heavy rains early in the morning spoiled the program and probably kept away many people who would otherwise have attended the gathering. Plans for a band concert before the senator's appearance also were shattered by the rain.

Plans had been made earlier to have the meeting in the auditorium in case of rain but at the last minute they were changed and the meeting was held in the Moose hall.

HITS POWER TRUST

The senator urged a bill which would allow municipalities and counties to join together water power plan for developing water power for generation of electricity. He said this plan would prevent the growth of the power trusts which would gouge money from the pockets of the people so they might get a large return on their investments.

He pointed out that in Ontario, Canada, and in Seattle, Washington, where the electric plants were municipally owned the power rates were much lower than they are in most places in the United States.

Attacking the new income tax law the senator asked the people to put Joseph Beck into the governor's chair so they might have the kind of administration they had when Blaine was in office.

"The new income tax law shifts the burdens from the backs of the strong to the backs of the weak," Senator Blaine said. "The legislation imposed additional burdens upon the small property owner and the small salaried man. In fact, that legislation shifted a large increase in taxes to the backs of 216,000 persons least able to pay."

"It relieved corporations to the extent of more than $1,000,000 a year. And it helped the Kohler company of Kaukauna very materially. In fact, Mr. Kohler's company saved more money in one year from the last tax bill than the amount of the governor's salary for four years."

He charged that Walter J. Kohler, of Kohler, the stalwart Republican candidate for governor, had no other recommendation for the job than that he had built up a huge private fortune.

Urging the support of the McNary-Haugen bill, which he claimed would relieve farm bills, Mr. Blaine promised the LaFollette Progressives would support this bill if they were elected.

He said the Progressives have the votes and the stalwarts have the money and that Kohler was the candidate of the money group.

He said Kohler favored the open shop because it favored the employer and not the workman. He promised the Progressives would fight to have the injunction abolished in connection with labor disputes.

Other shore addresses were given by Congressman George J. Schneider of Appleton, Assemblyman Anton Miller, Assemblyman Oscar J. Schmiede, Assistant District Attorney Stanley A. Staidl, William Bay, president of the Kaukauna Trades and Labor council, president, at the meeting.

Before the meeting Senator Blaine was the guest of a group of Kaukauna Progressives at a dinner at Mulholland's Tea Shop.

KAUKAUNA FREE OF RABIES FOR WHOLE YEAR

Kaukauna—Not a single case of rabies has been reported to the police department here this year despite the fact that several towns and villages in the vicinity of Kaukauna are being troubled with the disease, according to James A. McFadden, acting chief of police, in the absence of R. H. McCarty, chief, who is spending several days at Tomahawk on business. Mr. McFadden said the police here have not received a report of a dog afflicted with the malady.

MERCHANTS SILENT ON NEW INDUSTRIAL PLAN

Kaukauna—Although a group of Kaukauna businessmen are investigating the proposal of the Helgerson Steel Foundry of Green Bay to locate in Kaukauna none of them is willing to talk of the proposition.

For several weeks rumors had been going around Kaukauna that a new firm wanted to locate in Kaukauna and Mayor W. C. Sullivan confirmed these rumors by announcing the Helgerson company had made a proposal to come to Kaukauna. The mayor said the matter probably would be placed before the Kaukauna Advancement association but Ben Prugh, president of that body, said this week that the association had received no official word of the proposition.

JIM'S SLOW TICKER CAUSES HIM TO MISS TRAIN TO BOX FIGHT

Kaukauna—James Thiermes left early this week to attend the Tunney-Henry boxing match in New York city—but Jim never got any further than Chicago. He purchased his ticket for New York and according to his schedule—if he had caught the train would have arrived in New York just in time for the fight. When Jim got to the station as Chicago to catch the train for New York—the train was just pulling from the depot. His watch was slow.

"There's one consolation," said Jim Thursday night while listening to the fight returns by radio. "I've got my money and Tex Rickard hasn't so I guess I'll buy a new watch."

KAUKAUNA PREPARES FOR TOUGH BATTLE

Smith Expects Appleton Will Give His Squad Plenty of Opposition

Kaukauna—Realizing that they are facing a revamped and better team when they meet Appleton at Appleton next Sunday, Manager Les Smith and his Kaukauna sluggers are practicing for a hard game. Kaukauna is confident of a win, as it already has beaten the Appletonians twice this season.

The Kaw nine fell into a slump Sunday and could not hit Poca's speed ball very well, but after a few days practice the locals feel that the slump was only temporary and that they will be able to crack the pill next Sunday.

The Kaw lineup probably will be the same as usual with Abbott in the pitcher's box and Wenzel behind the plate. Amedeo may see action in Sunday's game. He has been out of the game so far this season with a sore foot, but it has healed and Amedeo is ready to play as soon as Manager Smith says the word.

Mrs. Nagan was badly bruised and she was taken to a St. Paul hospital returning to Kaukauna this week.

KAUKAUNA MAN, 21, OUT FOR ASSEMBLY

John Rohan, Democratic Candidate, Would Be Youngest Legislator if Elected

Kaukauna—If John Rohan, 21, is elected to the assembly from the second Outagamie-co. district, for which office he announced his candidacy this week, Kaukauna probably will have the distinction of having the youngest voter sitting in the legislature. Mr. Rohan said he would make the race on the Democratic ticket.

John Francken, Little Chute, has been endorsed by the LaFollette Progressive Republican ticket to make the race on the Republican ticket.

Mr. Rohan who resides with his father on a farm on County Trunk Z, just outside the east city limits, is a graduate of Kaukauna high school where he was prominent in all activities. In 1925 he was a member of the Kaukauna high school debate squad which won second place in the state championship contests.

Following his graduation from high school Mr. Rohan attended Lawrence college for a year later attending a law school at the University of Madison for a year. Although he has no experience in public office, Mr. Rohan served as page at the last session of the legislature in 1927 and is acquainted with the duties of assemblyman.

He was born in Kaukauna and has lived here all his life.

Races and athletic contests will be held during the afternoon and prizes are to be awarded to the winners. Charles Faust will have charge of the concessions and Williams Jensen of Neenah will supply a group of shetland ponies to entertain the children.

PROVIDE MORE PARKING SPACE AT TOURIST PARK

Kaukauna—In order to provide more parking space for cars at the Tourist camp members of the public buildings and grounds committee of the common council and the park board are preparing to fill in the low land and swamp at the east end of the park. Material for the filling will be taken from streets to be graded this summer according to Alderman Ethan Brewster, chairman of the park board and the public buildings and grounds committee.

The low land which will be converted into parking space is practically as large as the present area of the park. Mr. Brewster pointed out that when a band concert is to be given at the park there will be plenty of room for parking cars and congestion, such as occurred Wednesday night when a concert was given in the park, will be avoided. Workmen are expected to start on the improvement within the next few days. Mr. Brewster said.

TOWNS NOT ALLOWED CO-OP FIRE ENGINES

Madison—(P)—The towns of Albion, in Dane-co. and Porter and Fulton in Rock-co. will be unable to carry out their proposals to maintain a fire engine in co-operation with the city of Edgerton, according to the attorney general.

He has informed George S. Geffs, district attorney of Rock county, that while towns may establish fire fighting equipment for their own use, there is no statutory authority for an appropriation covering such co-operative plan.

It is fundamental, the opinion says, that towns have only such powers as are specifically delegated or necessarily implied from the statutes creating them. And the statutes do not authorize such expenditure.

BECK KEEPS ATTACK CENTERED ON TAXES

"For years the stalwarts in this state have promised tax reduction, but their word, elected the candidate for Governor they supported, gave them a large majority in the state senate and enough assemblymen to make the control of the assembly doubtful at all times."

"They did reduce taxes, but only those of the banks, the insurance companies and the large corporations. Almost everyone else had his taxes increased. The new income tax law has boosted the income taxes of all individual income tax payers. It increased the taxes of the working man, the professional men, and the small business men in the cities."

"Under the 1925 income tax law, he said, all state taxes on property were remitted for two successive years. In spite of these remissions, Governor Blaine was able to turn over to Governor Zimmerman a balance of about $3,000,000 in the operating funds of the state. Then what happened? In the very first year of the new administration a state property tax of $2,500,000 had to be levied. Governor Zimmerman, moreover, advised the legislature

He looked forward to the pleasure of providing entertainment for his "two of brothers" who came all the way from Gisborne, New Zealand, to witness his futile quest of the heavyweight throne.

He plans to spend several weeks in America, and Heenev now will be able to devote the attention to them that he desires. It is possible the sold man from the land of the Anzacs may decide to go back with his brothers for a visit with his mother before engaging in any more battles.

The defeated challenger absorbed his conqueror from blame for jamming a thumb into his right eye as they started their eighth round. It was not intentional, Heenev said.

"Turney is too good a sportsman to do a trick like that," Honest Tom said.

"That bloody thumb—if it wasn't for that I might have gone through until the eighth. But I have no excuses to offer. The best man won, didn't he? What's the use of crying. It's a sporting proposition with me. I want to be a good winner and a good loser."

The solid rock from down under explained Turney hit him a terrific uppercut early in the eighth round and the thumb of his gloved fist accidentally struck him in the eye.

"I couldn't see a thing for a minute," he added. "My sight was ruined by the thumbing and before I could get straightened out, Gene had me a sight. The thumb curled up my upper eyelid down and under. I tried to get it back in place by winking, but it wouldn't budge. It didn't uncurl until Gene cracked with his blooming right."

Heenev remained in the seclusion of his hotel Friday, with his brothers and his syndicate of managers—the Mortimers and the Harveys, but he wanted none of their sympathy. Jimmy Harveys, his trainer, attended to the gash over his left eye. Aside from the patch covering the damaged optic Heenev did not show extensive evidence of the bruising battle. He was a different Heenev from the pitiful figure that had half dragged himself from the ring.

LEGION SOFTBALLERS WIN TWO TOUGH GAMES

The American Legion softball team, recovering from its slump of the last two weeks which resulted in two losses in that time, evened the score with two hard-fought victories this week.

Monday afternoon the Legionnaires whipped the 1927 league champions, the Interlake Paper Co. crew, 4-2 in a tough struggle featured by airtight hitting by both teams and Thursday afternoon the Riverside Paper crew was the victim of a 5-4 Legion win. In the latter game the score was tied 4-4 when the last of the ninth came round and Sylvester gave the Soldiers their winning run in the final half of the frame with one down. Both games were National League struggles. The losses before this week were to the Brandt Co. and Co. D.

Negro Rival to Ruth

Mule Sellers, with the colored St. Louis Stars, is the Babe Ruth of the Negro National League. His manager says Sellers is ahead of the Babe this season and is likely to slam 65 to 70 four-baggers before the season is completed.

Because of a horrible exhibition against Marion Piestina recently, big Wace Munn has been barred by the Tulsa (Okla.) Athletic commission from wrestling there for a year.

ILLINOIS BALL TEAM TAKES TRIP TO JAPAN

The longest journey ever taken by an athletic team of the University of Illinois is now on—a trip to Japan by the Illinois baseball team for a series of games against leading college teams of the Sowerly kingdom.

Coach Carl Lundgren, former National League star, is taking 15 Illinois players with him on the trip.

The Illinois stars will leave San Francisco on Aug. 15, and are scheduled to arrive at Yokohama on Aug. 31.

While in Japan, the Americans will be the guests of Keio University, sponsors of the invasion.

With the exception of Second Baseman Glade from Omaha, Neb., and Outfielder Walker of Ballard, Va., Mass., all members of the team making the trip are from Illinois.

Dave's Dots And Dashes

His usual tough luck on putting in the first nine holes of play in the Western open probably cost Frank Walsh, local pro, medalist honors. Had Frank shot a par 36 he would have tied for the honors as he got a 36 on his last nine holes of the day, two under par but in his early play he took several three-butt greens. To day he went out for the second nine holes with Johnny Farrell, popular national open champ, with the largest gallery of the meet watching and if company is any inspiration and a golfer plays up to the standard of his partner, Frank will be among the leaders again tonight.

It won't be long now and the third of plinkings will again call the lovers of sports to the football fields. Already "bear" stories are floating about from training camps. In the Valley conference East Green Bay, with a few serious losses and better than average reserves of last year back is the early dope favorite, with Oshkosh, Appleton, Marinette and Manitowish listed in the class of possible contenders. West Green Bay, though hit severely, also is expected to have its usual Murph White good team in the field, while Little has been heard from Sheboygan and Fond du Lac last year's weak sisters.

Only a few chances remain for the other five teams of the Valley league, though only two really have a chance, to overtake the league-leading Kimberly-Little Chute combination, 1927 loop champions. The K. C. boys have a two-game lead over Kaukauna and Green Bay since the Kaukauna lost their big opportunity last Sunday when they had expected a win. Green Bay plays at Little Chute Sunday, where Kaukauna beat Marry Lamers crew a few weeks ago and if the Baymen lose, the Lamers crew still will have its two game lead with only a few weeks to play and both of its handier rivals off its schedule. If the Bays win, then they and Kaukauna will be just a game from the top with an even chance yet to at least tie for the top. So it seems as if the entire fate of the league title depends on Sunday's game at the Chute.

When the next league batting averages are issued Murphy, Appleton catcher-outfielder will be batting at least .333 as the result of his great hitting streak of the last few weeks and if he can continue his work against Kaukauna Sunday he may be right on the heels of the loops four-400 hits. Boots Lamers, Rachals, Les Smith and Len Smith. Murphy has hit .615 for his last three games with eight hits in thirteen bats, including three homers, and his total mark is .333.

NEW YORK, July 27.—If he had been hitting only 150 before his sudden change he now would be among the top 400 men. Relatively Van Wagon was leading Appleton, with a mark well over 300 has hit only a few safeties in the last two weeks and the probably will fall far into the class as Murphy rises.

BREWERS FINALLY WHIP INDIANS IN A. A. GAME

Chicago—(P)—The pace-setting Indianapolis Indians suffered a setback Thursday in their persistent aspirations to win the Midwest. Brewers shut them out 2 to 0, largely through the effective pitching of Womack who allowed only six scattered hits.

Minneapolis made it four straight from the Mudhens by turning in a 6 to 2 win over Toledo.

Kansas City and Louisville divided another twin bill. Joe Doherty beat Jimmy Zinn 3 to 1, in the first game while the Blues took the second game, 15 to 5.

St. Paul and Columbus broke even in their bargain bill, the Saints coring the opener 14 to 3 while the Senators administered a 2 to 0 whipping in the aftermath.

Banks began to withdraw loans to obtain funds with which to put their houses in order before the June 30 call by the comptroller of the currency for state, county and city bonds, and the moment of cashing. Corporations which had placed funds in the money market to take advantage of high interest rates suddenly withdrew their offerings to meet their own mid-year interest and dividend payments, which incidentally contributed a million dollar record.

The roof was blown off the Leslie Freeman building containing stores occupied by Otto Maertz Barber Shop, George Fuerst Jewelry store, E. J. Pelzer, Men's Clothing and the Pahl News Stand. The roof, of metal, was rolled up by the force of the wind and left lying across the rafters. Considerable damage was done to stock by the accompanying rain.

ELECTORAL COLLEGE KILLS OFF CHANCES FOR ANOTHER PARTY

"Third" Party Candidates Have Serious Barrier to Hopes for Office

BY RODNEY DUTCHER

Washington—The electoral college system, as pointed out by Senator George W. Norris of Nebraska, is one of the most serious barriers in the face of a third party or any independent candidate.

Numerous organizations and thousands of individuals had urged Norris to head another ticket. Norris had no objection to fighting a losing fight; he has done that often. But he realized that he would not be able to get his name on the ticket except as one of two states, and his ticket would only get tangled up in a lot of barbed wire erected as if for the purpose of keeping the two party system intact. So he contented himself with urging voters to elect progressives to Congress.

Norris wants a constitutional amendment abolishing the electoral college and allowing electors to be chosen by direct popular vote. He admits that there is no strong sentiment for that, but insists that there would be if the people realized how thoroughly hog-tied they were by the existing system, which he believes makes an independent candidacy virtually impossible.

"We ought to make it easy for a man to run for the presidency instead of making it especially hard," says Norris, who also believes in nomination of presidential candidates by national direct primary.

The Nebraska senator estimates that it would require several hundred thousand dollars to get the names of his electors on the ballot. Even then, only one or two states—Nebraska is one—would permit the name of the candidate to appear. Norris submits that it's too much to expect all the voters to familiarize themselves with the names of electors.

Independent candidates aren't impossible, of course. But La Follette was extremely fortunate in 1924 to inherit the machinery of the Socialist party, which had been in existence for a long time. Even so, he had a heart-breaking task to get electors on the ballots in as many states as he did.

Naturally, the old parties which now operate the political machinery have no interest in seeing the ballots cluttered up any more than they are. Third parties carry the threat of throwing the election into the House through the workings of the electoral college, and there's no fun in that.

Furthermore, their politicians candidly argue, whenever a protest candidate comes along, either in one of the old parties like Bryan, or on a new ticket, they can easily grab any popular idea he may prove to have and force him to look for a new one.

The hardest work involved in getting another candidate on the ballot consists of tying up electors and getting them off the ballot in each state by petition or other method prescribed by law.

Alabama only requires a petition signed by 300 registered voters. Arizona demands a petition from one per cent of the voters, but the signature must not have participated in the primaries. Arkansas: signatures of 50 to 1000 voters. California: one per cent of last election vote, signers shouldn't have voted in primaries, which means some 13,000 signatures.

Colorado asks 300 voters' signatures and Connecticut one per cent of the last vote. Delaware: 250 in each of three counties. Florida: 25 from each county (in some counties they probably never heard of Norris). Georgia: notice of candidacy. Idaho: nomination of 3000 voters by petition. Illinois: 1000 signatures, non-primary voters. Indiana and Iowa: 500 qualified electors. Kansas: 2500 voters. Kentucky and Maine: 1000 voters. Maryland: 2000 voters. Massachusetts: 1000 voters. Michigan: nomination by assemblage of certified electors. Minnesota: 2000 non-primary voters. Mississippi: 50. Missouri: one per cent. Montana: five per cent of vote for winning candidate in last election. Nebraska: 1000 voters. Nevada: 10 per cent of last election voters. New Hampshire: 1000 voters. New Jersey: two per cent of general assembly voters. New Mexico: certificates of nomination required. New York: 12,000 voters, not less than 50 in each county. North Carolina: 10 per cent of non-partisan state vote in last election. North Dakota: 500 qualified voters. Ohio: one per cent of last election voters. Oklahoma: nominating petitions. Oregon: two per cent up to 1000 voters. Pennsylvania: one-half of one per cent of largest vote for the office in last election. Rhode Island: 500 voters. South Dakota: 200 voters. Tennessee: 15 voters. Texas: one per cent of last general election state vote. Utah: 500 voters. Vermont: one per cent. Virginia: written notice of candidacy. Washington: "group of petitioners." West Virginia: not to exceed 1000 non-primary electors. Wisconsin: 1000 voters. Wyoming: 100 voters.

Much of this sounds easy enough at first. But it definitely means that no man can announce a candidacy for the presidency and receive the votes of those who would ordinarily support him without building a large organization and spending considerable money. He must have a machine of some sort in every state where he intends to run. And the supporters of such candidates are nearly all going to be innocent of political machines and political machinery.

PLAN FOR MEETING OF CIVIL LEGION

Dr. E. H. Brooks, Appleton, and John Coppes, Kaukauna, are members of the state committee of the Civil Legion, which is making arrangements for the attendance of Wisconsin delegates at the national convention at Huntington, W. Va., Oct. 12 and 13. Both nominees are members of the organization.

The Civil Legion is a non-partisan organization, whose membership is made up of citizens who served as members of the draft boards, councils of defense and other authorized civil capacities during the World war. The surviving war veterans constitute the National Advisory board.

STEADY INCREASE IN USE OF PLAYGROUNDS

Denny Estimates 25,000 Children Frequenting Ward Grounds This Summer

Nearly 25,000 children frequented city playgrounds since the beginning of the summer vacation, according to Arthur Denny, playground director. The largest number of children use the playgrounds in the Fifth and Third wards, approximately 1,000 participating in activities there daily.

Since the first week playground programs were conducted, there has been a marked increase in the number of children attending. The first week 4,912 used the playgrounds; the second week, 4,900; the third week, 4,900 made use of the grounds; fourth week, 4,949; fifth week, 4,900 and last week, 6,700, which indicates the popularity of the new project, according to Mr. Denny.

Most of the children have entered into the spirit of the playground enthusiastically and very little difficulty was experienced in keeping order. Mr. Denny says. Many of them have profited in physical and athletic knowledge since the new system started. Some children did not understand the methods used in playing games and conducting track meets. The playground could be called the first grade of athletic training to prepare athletes for high school and college days.

GIVE COUNTY ANOTHER CHANCE TO ACQUIRE TOWN LINE HIGHWAY

Laabs Says It Could Be Made into State Road and Eliminate Viaduct

Town line roads in Grand Chute, Vandenberg and Kaukauna again will be offered the county board this fall as county trunk lines and a possible belt line to state highway 41, according to August Laabs, chairman of the town of Grand Chute. The highway in question runs from a point about three miles north of Appleton on Highway 41 to near McCarthy's crossing and then north, alleviating the need of crossing railroad tracks.

The proposed route was offered the county board last spring and a report from the county highway committee was that if the towns would grade and gravel sections, the county would consider accepting the route as a county trunk line. Members of the committee went over the route last spring and were enthused with prospect of acquiring the highway.

The fisherman who goes deliberately out for bass, equipped as he was early in the season, casts in the shallows as he did at that time and uses the same lures is sure to be disappointed. At this time of the year you cannot find the bass in the warm, shallow water along shore except during unusually cold and rough weather and then only when it comes on. The reason they do not come to shore at all is because of the presence of minnows there at that time. And, as I stated, this is seldom the case.

The best way of attempting their capture is to fish deep. The fish seek warm water as warm weather comes on. And this is true, not only of the bass family, but of most other species. About the most effective bait for bass in warm weather is an active live minnow. A club will do but personally I like better success using shiners. Use only large ones. Attach a hook weight, a couple of buckshot, perches, a foot or more above the bait. Let it sink slowly to near the bottom. Then impart to it a gentle, jerky motion. If there is a bass in the neighborhood and nothing has alarmed him, you are very apt to get a strike.

Many fishermen have asked me in regard to using artificial flies for bass. They say they try hard to interest the bass with different kinds of flies, but with very poor results. Assuming that the day is cold and rough and the body of the water you are fishing is best, especially if there is a breeze blowing, you will see an occasional bass rising with regular intervals. Do not approach too near to his speckles. Get your fly out to him from a short distance, not over about an inch long. This will often turn a very disappointing day into one of great results.

Beginning Aug. 1, articles in the regular mails posted in the United States and addressed for delivery in Canada, and vice versa, to be dispatched by air will be subject to the new air mail rate of 5 cents which goes into effect on domestic air mail service in the United States on Aug. 1, according to word received at the Appleton post office Thursday. HOLD LEAD IN OFFERING SERVICE SUGGESTIONS

The Old Northern Wisconsin Railroad Employees club still leads in the number of suggestions for the betterment of railroad service and equipment, according to W. W. Fradenburgh, chairman of the Lake Shore division club. The West Chicago division is the nearest competitor, according to Mr. Fradenburgh.

Nearly 50,000 employees of the Chicago and Northwestern railroad have undertaken to cooperate with the road in expanding the progress of the company, by organizing clubs. Sixteen clubs have already been formed with the purpose of bringing about more efficient operation of the road through the practice of economy in the use of time, materials and facilities and also to bring about a closer cooperation between departments and officers.

Spring Bait Will Not Catch Black Bass Now

BY R. A. CLAFIN

I have had so many inquiries of late asking my opinion as to why the fishermen are having such poor luck catching black bass that this perhaps is the best way of answering. About all I can do, of course, is to give my opinion and to a great extent, I base my assertions on the methods of the old-time successful fishermen.

In the first place, it must be remembered that from right now until about September first, outside of Bluegills and Crappies, no fishing is very good. The fish are far from having had plenty of food during the early spring months. If you get them at all you necessarily must be extremely careful as to how you present your lures to them.

The fisherman who goes deliberately out for bass, equipped as he was early in the season, casts in the shallows as he did at that time and uses the same lures is sure to be disappointed. At this time of the year you cannot find the bass in the warm, shallow water along shore except during unusually cold and rough weather and then only when it comes on. The reason they do not come to shore at all is because of the presence of minnows there at that time. And, as I stated, this is seldom the case.

SANDERS TO ENFORCE LAW ASKING LICENSE FOR WORK IN HOMES

Deputy Health Officer Must Check Manufacturer Homes, People Doing Work

Appleton manufacturers who are sending their product out to homes to complete manufacture again will be checked up by Theodore Sanders, deputy city health officer. Manufacturers who follow this practice are required by state law to pay a $1 license fee for every home in which their work is being done.

According to the law, an inspection must precede granting of any home work license. The law provides that health officer of a community must satisfy himself that the room, apartment or building is clean, and fit to be used for home work manufacture and that none of the persons employed or living therein are afflicted with infectious or communicable diseases likely to be transmitted to consumers.

The form to be filled out by the health officer on his inspection gives the name and address of persons being inspected, factory giving out work, articles manufactured or finished, condition of yard or building, toilet facilities, condition of workroom, light, ventilation, method of heating, cleanliness or waits and persons work, infectious or malignant diseases in building, number of persons in household and number of rooms occupied.

The report also shows names of persons doing work, their reason, time spent on work, earnings per month, per piece and per hour, children under 16 years of age doing work, and other sources of income. Most home work done in Appleton is for knitting mills. Mr. Sanders said. In this case work is taken from the factory to homes where ends are tied and other minor jobs done. Any manufacturers who does not have the home of persons doing work for him inspected and pay the fee, is violating the law, the health officer said, and is liable to prosecution.
